Terry & Dana served in Grenada for 12 years, planting churches, starting a Christian school and building a camp. They then moved to England, where they served for nearly 30 years, helping small struggling churches to grow and become better established. Terry also served as a consultant for churches across England before they returned to the US in 2013. Now Terry is preaching at times to fill in at their church and elsewhere and he also leads their visitation ministry. They are both teaching Sunday school.
