Ministry...

When he was a senior in high-school, Gary and his family moved to Normal and began attending Grace Church. Gary is now the Director of The Renaissance Project, which strives to bring the new life of Christ to creative centers of the church, the campus, and the community, focusing on the arts and entertainment industry. Biblical discipleship and fellowship are key components. Christian Artist Fellowship at Belmont University is one major venue for the Project.

Joy assists Gary in Bible studies and counseling appointments, but her main role is as wife and home-schooling mom to their children.
