Ministry...

Both from the Chicago suburbs, Jim and Linda have been with Navigators since 1983. Jim was the Campus Director for The Navigators ministry at ISU during their years here, 1990-1999, at which time they attended Grace. Jim now has two leadership roles, Campus Director at Colorado State University and also Regional Leader for the Navigators Rocky Mountain Region. In that role he supervises the collegiate staff and campus ministries in Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, and New Mexico.

There are about 250 students in Navs at CSU. Jesus says the need is for laborers [Matt.9:37-38], and the Navigator's ministry is to raise up students to become lifetime laborers who have a passion for Christ, will reach lost people for Christ, and make disciples. Their campus is a training center for young staff. Over the last decade they have sent out over 60 full time staff from their region. The Rinellas' sons Michael and Matthew attend Colorado State University, where in the fall of 2015 Michael is a sophomore and Matthew is a freshman.
