Ministry...

Jill and Laymon Glass were married in August 17, 2014. Jill was previously married to Joe Pinch, and together they served in Venezuela with TEAM as short-term missionaries. From 1979-1982, they served at the Christiansen Academy for missionary kids. Joe passed away in 1982.

Jill continued on as the school secretary after Joe's passing and taught some classes. In that time she completed the training to become a career missionary and in 1989, she moved to Caracas to work in the field office as an office administrator and guesthouse coordinator. She served on the Christiansen Academy School Board for several years. Jill remained in Venezuela until 2004, when she retired from the field. She was married to Wayne Kauffman from 2007 until his home going in December of 2013.
