Ministry...

David and Darlene joined Africa Inland Mission in 1966, taught for nine years in the national schools of Kenya and an additional nine years at Rift Valley Academy, a school for missionary kids. David also taught courses at the Univ. of Nairobi while serving as pastor of a small rural church, and served on committees that set the Bible curriculum for Kenya's schools.

In 1985 the Nodens returned to the U.S. as their son began college. They then became AIM Regional Administrators in the mid-atlantic states and stayed in that assignment until taking on retirement status in 2008. In that position their job was to recruit, process candidates, mentor them in fundraising, and take short term teams overseas. Having relocated to Bloomington, they continue to mentor new missionaries, encourage those on home assignment, and lead short-term teams to Kenya. David serves as chairman of East White Oak's Mission Team where they both serve.
